PANAMA, Jan. 3 (AP)—The body of slain President Jose Antonio Remon was carried on a fire engine to a final resting place in the National Cemetery late today. Thousands lined the streets in a final tribute to the country's "strong man" ruler.

There was no clue as yet to the identity of the assassins who moved down Remon with machine gun fire at a race track last night. The strategic Central American republic was under a state of siege—a modified form of martial law temporarily suppressing constitutional guarantees—to aid aid secret police hunt the assassins.

Former President Arnulfo Arias and two women were among a score of persons already rounded up for questioning. The National Assembly decreed the state of siege for a 10-day period.

A huge wreath covered the bronze casket atop the fire engine used in Panama state funerals.

Jose Ramon Guizado, who was sworn in as president following the assassination, led an impressive funeral cortege.

Marching in the procession were an honor guard from the U. S. armed forces and delegations of cadets from various Latin-American countries.

Funeral services were held in the capital's Roman Catholic Cathedral before an overflow throng. The cathedral bells began tolling to let all Panama know the services inside were over and the funeral procession was ready to start.

Among the mourners was Remon's sorrowing widow, who received the news of her husband's death in Miami, Fla., then flew here for the funeral rites.

Remon, 46-year-old strongman regarded as the outstanding president in the republic's history, was shot down from the darkness last night as he stood with friends in a brilliantly lighted pavilion at the fashionable Juan Franco Race Track four miles northeast of this city. Two other men were killed and three were wounded in the exchange of gunfire between the assassins and the presidential bodyguard.

Col. Saturnino Flores, deputy commander of the National Guard, Panama's main military force, said the authorities have no definite clues to identify or motive of the assassins. But Flores indicated strongly the weight of suspicion fell on supporters of Arias, ousted from the presidency in the bloody 1951 coup by the National Guard which Remon headed.

Flores said that if the object of the assassination was to gain control of the government, the plot failed because the National Guard had firm control of the situation. He recalled recent threats of major developments by Arias' followers.

There was widespread speculation that professional killers may have been imported to assassinate Remon. Investigators said the shots were fired from about 100 feet from where the President and his friends stood. Bullet marks on two steps of the presidential box and the box railing indicated the assassins fired from two directions with great accuracy. A wire fence near where the assassins took cover showed signs something heavy had rested on it. The secret police said two clips for machine guns apparently of Belgian or Italian manufacture were found at the scene.

In New York, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles said apparently "no Communist issue was involved" in the assassination.

Moscow Man Fatally Hurt At Columbia

MRS. ROMAINE KURTZ, 23, of Moscow Rd. 1, Pa., was still in critical condition last night at General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, following a Sunday night auto accident in which her husband, Edward Kurtz, 24, was fatally injured at Columbia, N. J.

Hendrick Deboer, 20, of Route 466 Belvidere R. D. 1, was the driver of the other vehicle. He was reported in good condition despite cuts and a hand injury.

Mrs. Kurtz is suffering from a broken jaw and fractured left thigh. Her husband, who received a back fracture and internal injuries, died at the hospital yesterday morning at 2:45.

The collision occurred Sunday at 10:40 p. m. beneath the Route 611 overpass in Columbia when Deboer's northbound car went out of control and crossed a safety island colliding with the southbound Kurtz vehicle.

State Police at Blairstown, N. J., said the investigation is still pending and that Deboer would likely be charged with reckless driving and causing death by auto.

Both cars were damaged extensively. The severe crash left the manufacturer's emblem from the radiator of Deboer's late model car embedded in the left side of the Kurtz car.

McCarthy Uncovers Ex-Red At Group's Final Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) rang down the curtain on his investigating committee chairmanship today with surprise testimony from a brunette witness who said she was under a Communist "death sentence" for FBI undercover work.

The witness identified herself as Miss Mary Stella Beynon, 31, who told reporters later her own mother has never known she joined the party for the purpose, as she put it, Communist party in February 1946 of reporting its activities to the FBI.

Miss Beynon, chic and comely, named four Westinghouse Co. employees in the Pittsburgh area as Communists during her 15 months as a party member.

One of them, Theodore Wright, a Negro employee in the Westinghouse air brake plant at Wilmerding, Pa., took the stand and denied he is now a member of the Communist party. Wright refused to say on the ground of self-incrimination whether he ever had been a Communist.

Miss Beynon testified she was expelled from the party in May 1947, when the Communists "got hold of one of my reports" to the FBI.

She said Roy Hudson, then Communist party chairman for Western Pennsylvania, "told me I wouldn't be killed that night but I was under death sentence."

A fast succession of witnesses at a day-long hearing of the Permanent Investigating Subcommittee also brought to the stand Frank Nestler of Jeannette, Pa., who identified himself as a former Communist and named seven other Westinghouse employees as Communists.

His list overlapped Miss Beynon's. Together they named as Reds eight Pittsburgh area Westinghouse workers.

One of those named, Peter Lydon, admitted he had been a Communist and promised to tell the FBI all about it. Four others pleaded the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution. Three failed to answer subpoenas, and the committee voted to start contempt proceedings against them.

Committee Urges U. S. Offensive On Political Front

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—A congressional committee urged today that the United States launch immediately "a positive, bipartisan, political offensive" to counteract what it called a Communist plan for lulling the free world into inaction and starting World War III at a time of the Kremlin's choosing.

The committee concluded that Russia's "peaceful coexistence" talk is designed to gain time that will enable the Soviets to divide and destroy free world alliances and pave the way for Red aggression.

COP Senators United Behind Harvey Taylor

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3 (AP)—Legislators converged on Harrisburg today for the opening of the 141st regular session of Pennsylvania's General Assembly at noon tomorrow.

Organization of the two houses was the first matter on the agenda with taxes to finance the commonwealth's vast services looming as the 1955 session's largest problem.

Retiring Gov. John S. Fine, who delivers his farewell message to the Assembly tomorrow about 3 p. m., has said the state will need as much as $50 million dollars in new revenue in 1955-57.

The Assembly convenes just two weeks in advance of the Jan. 15 inauguration of Democratic Gov.-elect George M. Leader.

Complicating things for 36-year-old Leader is Republican control of the Senate. Democrats will control the House, however, for the first time since 1941, with a 111-99 majority.

Judge Rejects Sheppard Plea For New Trial

CLEVELAND, Jan. 3 (AP)—Judge Edward Blythin today overruled a motion for a new trial for Dr. Samuel Sheppard osteopath convicted of slaying his wife, Marilyn.

The motion the judge ruled on was based on a contention by Dr. Sheppard's attorneys that there were 41 errors in the 10-week trial at which the osteopath was convicted of second degree murder.

Still to be heard is a motion by the chief defense counsel, William J. Corrigan, for a new trial on the basis of "newly discovered evidence."

Judge Blythin, who presided at the trial which ended Dec. 21, has sentenced Dr. Sheppard to life in prison. Sheppard would not be eligible for parole for at least 10 years under that sentence.

The body of Marilyn Sheppard, 31, was found on a blood-soaked bed July 4 at their lakefront home in suburban Bay Village.

Dr. Sheppard, who marked his 51st birthday in jail, has insisted she was hacked to death by a bushy-haired intruder.

Pope Calls On World For True Peace

VATICAN CITY, Jan. 3 (AP)—Pope Pius XII has urged the world to transform the current "cold peace" into a true peace as soon as possible. He called upon Christians to help build "a bridge of peace" between East and West. But he warned anew against Communist propaganda.

The pontiff's plea was made in his 16th annual Christmas message, which illness prevented him from delivering Christmas eve. Dated Dec. 24, the 6,000-word message was released today by the Vatican.

Like its 15 predecessors, the message was devoted to peace. The 78-year-old head of the Roman Catholic Church recognized that, compared with the years of war and cold war, the present cold peace indicates "some progress in the laborious ripening of peace properly so called."

"But," he added, "it is in too vivid contrast with the spirit of cordiality, of sincerity and of brightness that hovers around the cradle of the Redeemer."

Skiers Almost Buried Alive

BERKELEY, Calif., Jan. 3 (AP)—Four Berkeley skiers told today of their narrow escape from death buried under four feet of snow in an avalanche.

The avalanche occurred on a slope of Mt. Ralston, near Echo Lake, in the Sierra.

The rescue came by mere chance. The four would have died in a few hours. Three of them were members of the expedition that last year tried to scale 27,800-foot Mt. Makalu in the Himalaya range, the world's third highest mountain.

The four were Kenneth D. Adair, Allen P. Steck, William W. Dunmire and Richard C. Houston, all of Berkeley and expert skiers and mountain climbers.

Monroe County Not Affected By Travel Curbs On Soviets Despite Location Of Depot

DESPITE THE FACT THAT Monroe County is the site of the largest Signal Corps Depot in the U. S., the State Department apparently feels it's all right for Russians to travel here.

Neither Monroe or Lackawanna County was named in yesterday's list of Pennsylvania counties declared "off limits" to Russians. Both Pike and Wayne were also left off the list.

Out of the 67 counties in this State, 39 were named "off limits" by the Department of State, according to the list released in Washington.

Among the "off limits" areas in Pennsylvania were these nearby counties: Carbon, Lehigh, Luzerne and Northampton.

Even though Russians will be free to travel around the outside of the fenced-in Signal Depot at Tobyhanna, their entry can be barred by guards stationed at a number of gates.

Attorney General's Life Threatened For Exposing Vets' Land Sales Scandals

CUERO, Tex., Jan. 3 (AP)—The attorney general of Texas was threatened today with "a bullet in the back of the head" if he continues to probe Texas' veterans' land sales scandals.

The threat was telephoned to Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheppard's home in Austin, the state capital.

Mrs. Sheppard was described as temporarily "hysterical" after she was told of the threat by a maid who took the call.

Commission To Inspect Pike Spur

HARRISBURG, Jan. 3 (AP)—Members of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission tomorrow begin a two-day inspection of work completed on the 110-mile northeast extension of the toll road.

A commission spokesman described the trip as a "periodic general inspection," one of numerous such ventures that members make either individually or together.

Chairman T. J. Evans and Commissioners David Watson and James Torrance are to begin their tour at Plymouth Meeting, near Norristown, the starting point of the extension. The extension will run to near Scranton.

Turnpike construction engineers will accompany the commissioners.

Maternity Leave Ouster Fought By Teacher

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3 (AP)—Does a lady school teacher, who takes time off without pay to have a baby, lose her seniority rights when she comes back to work?

This was the question raised today before Pennsylvania's Supreme Court and caused Chief Justice Horace Stern to comment: "If that is true it is both harsh and ridiculous."

Mrs. Mary Kosker Fisher, a teacher in the school district of Nanticoke, Luzerne County, since 1936, brought the case before the high tribunal in an effort to regain the job from which she had been dismissed.

Mrs. Fisher was one of 10 Nanticoke teachers suspended last June because of a pupil decline.

Police Find Owner Of Four Missing Teeth, Charge Him With Stealing Car And Hit-Run

AN EAST Stroudsburg man got his four front teeth back last night.

It was sort of a New Year's present from the police in that borough. They also gave him two charges.

One charge was for larceny of a motor vehicle. The other charge was "leaving the scene of an accident" on New Year's morning after a parked car was hit in front of St. Matthew's Church.

Frank H. Johns Jr., 25, of 17 Rose St., pleaded guilty to both charges.

Justice of the Peace Herbert G. Bonser ordered Johns committed to Monroe County Jail in default of $1,500 bail—$1,000 on the larceny charge and $500 for leaving an accident scene.

East Stroudsburg borough policemen said last night that it was "those four front teeth" that clinched the case for them.

Here's the story behind their deduction, as related by Travis Seese, a member of the force:

Early New Year's morning someone took a car belonging to Ralph Van Buskirk, Stroudsburg from its parking place in front of an East Stroudsburg lunch room.

The person didn't have Van Buskirk's permission.

A short time later the stolen car crashed into the parked car of William F. Cooks, 207 King St., same borough.

Police began investigating the incident; found that Van Buskirk had an airtight explanation—he had been sitting in lunchroom for two hours, including the time of the accident.

On the floor of the smashed, stolen car, police found four teeth which appeared to be part of an upper plate. Further inspection showed them to be precisely that.

Well, said one of the officers at the scene, all we have to do is look for a guy with four front teeth missing.

The investigation continued through Saturday and Sunday. Police kept getting closer to a solution as they went along, Seese said.

Yesterday afternoon Seese and fellow officer Donald Quick were assigned to continue the investigation. They picked up Johns at about 7:30, brought him down to the borough lockup.

Once inside, Johns—who wasn't smiling—got the teeth back, Seese said.

The police officer said he held the teeth out and asked: "Will these fit?"

Johns immediately grabbed the teeth, police said. He put them in his mouth. Perfect fit!

Johns then told police his story:

On New Year's Eve he started drinking, he told them. He went to several places, finally came by the Lindy Lunch at 110 Brown St.

In front of the lunch counter Johns told police he suddenly decided to "wanted to go south to Florida for a while." He climbed in the car and took off, police said.

In front of the church the car smashed into the Cooke auto. Johns' head apparently hit the steering wheel, jarring loose the four teeth (which had already been broken, police said) and knocking them to the floor.

Johns got out of the car and ran. At this point the accident was reported and police officers in the borough began their investigation.

And that's the end of the story. The moral, if any, police said last night might be "Never state to Florida with loose front teeth."

Dulles Orders Restrictions As Reprisal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—More than one fourth of the U. S. land area was declared off limits to Russians today in a reprisal against similar curbs against Americans in the Soviet Union.

The retaliatory action was disclosed by the State Department after Secretary of State Dulles notified Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin that the United States had revised its travel regulations.

The new U. S. rules, effective immediately, apply to all Soviet citizens in this country except about 50 accredited to the United Nations as employees of the U. N. Secretariat. Officials estimated about 400 Russians, officials and their families are affected.

The restricted area, according to U. S. officials, covers 27 per cent of the United States. It includes about 1,600 counties in 39 states, all of the Mexican border except Webb County, Tex., and a 15-mile band around the Great Lakes on the Canadian border. For the first time, it creates barred areas and closed cities.

The tough regulations were clamped down, officials said, because Russia had shown no sign of easing up on its restrictions.

Moscow, Idaho Off Limits To Soviet Citizens

MOSCOW, Idaho, Jan. 3 (AP)—The United States declared Moscow "off limits" to the Russians today.

Moscow, U.S.A., is a city of about 16,500 in northern Idaho and the seat of Latah County, one of 16 Idaho counties included in the area closed to travel by Soviet citizens in this country.

Local Moscovites, who haven't seen a Russian anyway, aren't sure just why the Soviets will be excluded out here. The town has a lumber mill and is the home of the University of Idaho.

dating back to 1948. However, they suggested that if and when the Kremlin is ready to do likewise, the U. S. government will consider easing up its travel restrictions.

Dulles' note said the new regulations "will apply until further notice." He said it will include "all resident Soviet citizens" except U. N. Secretariat employees. Also exempted are Russians temporarily admitted for specific purposes not involving residence either at Washington or New York.

Otherwise, Dulles said, a 1952 regulation stays in effect—confining all Russians to within 25 miles of the centers of Washington and New York. They must give 48 hours advance notice of any planned travel outside this area.

Arrives In China

TOKYO, Tuesday, Jan. 4 (AP)—Peiping radio said United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld arrived in Canton, China, at 8:30 a. m. today on his way to Peiping on his "free the fliers" mission.

Even then, they are barred from the border zones and the banned states, counties and cities. However, there are some instances in which specific cities are declared open within counties that are closed. There also are rules governing travel within such areas along specified routes.

U. S. officials would not go into detail as to how the prohibited areas were selected. They said there were many considerations, the two chief criteria being "reciprocity and security."

Department officials said Russia's restrictions ban travel by U. S. citizens and other foreigners to about 30 per cent of the Soviet Union.

Americans in the Soviet are confined to within 25 miles of Moscow and must not go within 15 miles of the U.S.S.R. frontier with Norway, Finland, Turkey, Iran and Afghanistan.

U. S. officials said 1952 regulations governing travel by Russians in the United States applied only to personnel at the Soviet Embassy in Washington, the Russian trade agency Amtorg in New York, and Tass and other Soviet press outlets in Washington and New York. It did not establish barred areas or closed cities as did today's order.

The only states left off the State Department off limits list were Arkansas, Florida, Minnesota, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oregon, Utah, Vermont and Wyoming.

Possible Split Faces Tito On Domestic Front

By ALEX SINGLETON
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Jan. 3 (AP)—A Yugoslav domestic feud developed into a possible split—at least on the surface—in President Marshal Tito's Communist government.

Tito, on a state visit to India and Burma, was described by Foreign Secretary Koca Popovic in Calcutta as having no advance information about criminal proceedings filed last week against former Vice President Milovan Djilas and Parliament Deputy Vladimir Dedijer, Tito's biographer.

Both Djilas and Dedijer have been allowed to remain technically free after preliminary questioning on charges that they attempted to undermine the state. Both have been ordered by Belgrade's Circuit Court to remain silent until a verdict is reached.

In Calcutta, Popovic told a news conference the action started by Vice President Edvard Kardelj, acting chief of state, was taken "without consultation with Tito." The statement came as a surprise to many persons here.

If true, it might mark the greatest rift within the Yugoslav Communist party since Djilas was shown of his office and ousted from the party a year ago after writing a series of articles criticizing government policies and accusing wives of officials of snubbing the actress bride of the army chief of staff, Col. Gen. Peko Dapcevic.

All three principles in the case—Djilas, Dedijer and Kardelj—were close associates of Tito in World War II. They fought together to liberate Yugoslavia from the Axis Powers and later worked together to capture control of the government.

50 Nations Brought Closer Together At Washington's Holiday Pageant For Peace

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—A few extra blows in the cause of peace were struck this holiday season, all because a retired colonel landing at Washington's National Airport a year ago was dismayed by what he saw.

Col. Ed Kirby, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's radio expert during World War II, was returning from New York. There he had been impressed by the tree in Rockefeller Center, and by the brilliantly lighted streets.

As his plane circled to land, Kirby could find but one word to describe the nation's capital: "Drab."

Kirby's sense of pride was wounded. This was doubly hard on him since he works for the local Board of Trade, an outfit whose business is civic pride.

Right then Kirby decided to do something about it. But what began merely as a civic venture grew and grew—"it simply snowballed on us"—until it became a pageant for peace. On Wednesday, the pageant winds up its three-week run in the ellipse across the street from the White House back yard.

During its stay, there have been these developments:
President Eisenhower dropped over to light the national Christmas tree.
Some 50 nations have taken part, a fact happily reported abroad by the Voice of America. Among the

Stocks Climb To New High; Volume Heavy

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—The stock market started the new year with a rousing advance that carried it to new peaks in the heaviest trading in more than four years.

General Motors was the star of the session with a net gain of 7½ at 166½ after hitting a high of 167½.

It started the day on a block of 15,000 shares at 162 and then stepped ahead rapidly.

The buoyant action came in the midst of Wall Street rumors of an impending stock or cash dividend declaration, a stock split, or the possibility of anti-trust action which could result in an eventual stock split.

Du Pont, which owns some 20 million shares of GM common, closed up 4 at 171½ after hitting a high of 175½.

Most sections of the list were higher—motors, steels, mail order issues, radio-televisions, coppers, railroads, and oils. Gains here

14,000 March Of Dimes Envelopes Mailed To County Homes

Drive Opens With Goal Set At $16,000

MARCH OF Dimes envelopes—14,000 of them—marched through the mail to Monroe County homes yesterday.

It was the official beginning of the local fund drive to combat polio. A goal of $16,000 has been set for the county this year.

Campaign Chairman Richard Fredenberg said last night the envelopes were addressed simply to "local patrons" and "R. D. box numbers" throughout the area.

The direct mail portion of the drive will be supplemented by income from March of Dimes coin boxes placed in business houses in the county. All the envelopes were prepared by a direct-mail addressing firm last Friday, Fredenberg said.

Money collected during the annual MOD drive is used to finance research and to care for polio victims during their rehabilitation period. During the past year the local chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has cared for or helped care for eight patients recovering from polio.

Hospital care for the polio patient is costly. Even with National Foundation help, through purchase of needed drugs and equipment at lower prices, hospitals still must maintain constant surveillance of the patient.

An outbreak of polio during the past year occurred in Jackson and Polk Townships in Monroe County. In both cases more than 100 school children were inoculated with gamma globulin, a blood fraction used to protect against polio. The Polk and Jackson mass inoculations were the first of their kind given in this area.

Keeping Doors Closed Saves Lumber Yard From Burning

BLAKESLEE—Quick thinking and closed doors were credited yesterday with saving the Sincavage Lumber Co. from total destruction by fire.

Pocono Lake volunteer firemen reported that a fire broke out in the kiln used to dry lumber at the company's plant in Blakeslee.

The fire was discovered at about 9 a. m. The kiln is separated from the rest of the lumber yard by huge doors large enough to permit lumber trucks to enter and leave.

These doors were kept tightly closed by employees of the lumber yard until firemen arrived on the scene, laid water hose and began working to control the blaze.

Leaving the large doors closed kept ventilation away from the interior of the building, firemen said, and confined the fire to one central spot.

Also credited with giving firemen a big boost in keeping the blaze under control was the availability of a nearby water supply.

A fire company spokesman said last night that a large pond in front of the lumber yard provided sufficient water to fight the fire.

No official estimate of damages had been made last night. A fire company spokesman said, however, that damages would probably exceed $50,000.

The lumber company is owned and operated by William Sincavage Cavage.

23 Voters Change Party Affiliations

A TOTAL of 23 persons have changed their political party affiliation, according to registration figures at the county commissioner's office.

In addition to these changed party connections, 34 new voter registrations are now on file, according to clerks in the office.

No breakdown, by party, has been made, the employees at the office said yesterday.

Deadline for voter registration or changing party registration will be March 26, according to Virginia Doll, a commission clerk.

$9,490 Raised To Date In Seal Campaign

A TOTAL of $118 in settlements for Christmas Seals were recorded yesterday at headquarters of the Monroe County Tuberculosis Society as the agency prepared to check further some 2,300 persons who received seals, but apparently overlooked making returns.

The settlements checked yesterday sent the TB Society seal sale campaign to $9,490.45, some $6,000 of which will be used to purchase an X-ray machine for day-in-day-out service to all people in Monroe County.

Machine is now being installed at General Hospital for general public use and to provide chest X-rays for all persons admitted to the hospital—a service never before provided.

In order to make settlements for seals easy, if mailing returns is not convenient, TB Society officials announced settlements or returns may be made at headquarters, 621 Sarah St., Stroudsburg; to Leon Koster, at Koster's store, East Stroudsburg; to Dr. Philip Kitchen, Pocono Lake; to Mel Weiss appliance store, Brodheadville; to Carl T. Secor at his East Stroudsburg supervising principal's school office or to Elwood Hintze, Hintze cleaners, Stroudsburg. All of the above named are directors of the TB Society.

Mine Flooding Bill Proposed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—A bill to authorize $½ million dollars of federal money to help relieve mine flooding in Pennsylvania's anthracite region will be introduced in the House Wednesday by Rep. Fenton (R-Pa.).

The bill would provide that Pennsylvania spend an equal amount, thus providing a total of 17 million dollars for the work. The job itself would be done by the state.

The deed was dated Jan. 23, 1922. It had never been officially recorded in a county office.

Claude M. Werkheiser Buys Nine-Acre Tract Adjoining Block Plant For $24,000

MONROE COUNTY Register and Recorder Floyd Butz' office ended the old year in a flurry of activity Friday.

Biggest transaction recorded during the day involved purchase of a tract in Stroud Township, off Lackawanna Trail, by Claude M. Werkheiser.

Werkheiser paid $24,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Horace H. Heller, Stroud Township, for a 9.2-acre lot adjoining Werkheiser's concrete-block plant. The block manufacturer said last night he may use the tract as the site of expansion of his business and installation of new facilities.

Other deeds recorded Friday showed the following transactions: William Hall Cameron Jr. and his wife, of Upper Black Eddy have sold a lot on the old Effort-Wilkes-Barre road in Chestnut Hill Township to Mr. and Mrs. William Rinker, Bethlehem.

Mr. and Mrs. I. Townsend Baldwin, Pocono Township have sold a lot on the Reders-Tannersville road in Jackson Township to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Storm, Jackson Township residents.

A Coolbaugh Township lot, on the road between Tobyhanna and Warnertown, was transferred by Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Woehrl, that township, to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woehrl, same address.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Butz East Stroudsburg, transferred two lots to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Butz Jr., same address, their son and daughter-in-law.

A lot on Paradise Trail (Route 190) was sold by Mr. and Mrs. Dale H. Learn, East Stroudsburg DR2, to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Lesoine, same address.

A deed recorded yesterday showed transfer of a Jackson Township lot from Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Storm, that place, to Mr. and Mrs. Stanley F. Storm Sr., that township.

Tax Cheaters

In a summary of its operations the last year, the Tax Division of the Justice Department reports it nipped a record number of tax cheaters.

Among the more celebrated cases were some of the country's better-known racketeers and a few politicians, including Joseph D. Nunan, who one was the government's head tax collector.

All we can say is it couldn't happen to a better bunch.

The most offensive of all, it seems to us, is the official who has been trusted with a public office and betrays the trust. We haven't any time, either, for racket characters who prey on the public and gyp the government.

Anyone who wilfully cheats on the taxes he owes his government ought to be in everybody's doghouse—for good. Because when he cheats the government he cheats every honest taxpayer in the land. And that's about as scurvy as you can get.

Electoral Reform

Rep. Frederic Coudert (R., N. Y.) has announced that he and Sen. Karl Mundt (R., S. D.) will again introduce their proposal to change the method of electing presidents when Congress convenes in January. And they have, properly and wisely, asked the leaders of both political parties to support it.

By amending the Constitution, the plan would assure that the "electoral vote" of each state be divided in proportion to that state's vote for President and Vice President.

Obviously this would make the electoral totals more representative of the people's will than the present system, under which the presidential candidate who "carries" a state gets all its electoral votes. This makes the selection of a President by a minority an ever-present danger.

The fact that it has not happened more often is due largely to the coincidence that margins in the various states usually have balanced each other.

Many times we have seen even the largest states go for a candidate by one per cent or so, and the extremely narrow results only last November in several races for Governor and Senator show that the division in party strength may be closer than in many years.

The Electoral College is no whimsical postscript to our election system. The original Constitution provided that the President be chosen by electors from the individual states, their number to correspond to the total of Congressmen and Senators. Only later did they become figureheads, bound by law or custom to ratify the votes of the people.

No one is suggesting today, of course, that the people should not continue to elect their President. The Coudert-Mundt proposal would offer more assurance, in fact, that the people's choice would be reflected in the electoral vote. It recognizes the obvious fact that state lines as such have little meaning compared to the great national problems and responsibilities a President more directly where it belongs—in the must face today, and would place his choice hands of the people as a whole.

George Sokolsky Says...

World Leadership Can Be Handled Only By Nation Which Has Specific Desires

Last Summer, "The Manchester Guardian" said:

"Only the United States can lead the Western world, and it is no longer doing so. Only the United States has the resources, vigour, and idealism for the task. Its leadership is failing for two reasons—weakness within the Administration, and an honest divergence of view between America and the other Western nations. . . . The essential fault in their logic is that the question is not asked whether the American people are anxious or desirous or even willing to assume for a protracted historic period the responsibilities and obligations of world leadership. While it may be true that some political leaders and a few publishers of newspapers and magazines are all excited about the United States leading the Western world, by and large the American citizen finds that his country has been worked into a position that brings to him only high taxes, a high cost of living, a depreciated currency and the constant probability of war. He does not like it. He is tired of war. He is tired of the constant talk of war and Communism and Russia. He wants to return to the simplicity of American living.

World leadership realistically can be handled only by a country that wants something concrete, such as colonial territory, additional population, guaranteed sources of foodstuffs and raw materials, controlled markets, etc. The United States wants nothing but peace and the American mind has never become adjusted to the politics of war. Perhaps that is why our intelligence services have never matured and why we are so often surprised by the course of events, as apparently our government was when Mendes-France got a bad vote on the German question.

The American prefers to do his business forthright and direct and when he tries to be devious, as he needs to be in world leadership, he often becomes ludicrous. He finds it difficult to weigh traditional hatreds against the necessities of finding a way to peace. It is the ingenu playing the heavy.

"The Manchester Guardian" does discover a little of American public opinion when it says:

"The United States—both its Government and apparently most of its people—believes that negotiation with the Communists is a dangerous waste of time. This view is shared by no other major Government in the West. . . . It does not matter that that view is shared by no other Government in the West; it is enough for most Americans to recognize that we were gyped at Teheran, Yalta, Potsdam, Geneva and Panmunjom and that an agreement with the Russians may be violated even while it is being negotiated. To use the vulgar language of trade, the Russians have no line of credit in this country and nobody can establish such a line but the Russians themselves. As popular as President Eisenhower is, most Americans would distrust the results of his attending a Four Power Conference.

This is particularly true as one of the objectives of such a Conference would have to be to find a way to placate Soviet Russia and Red China by a seat in the United Nations. The formula is already available, namely, that two Chinas are to be recognized. Red China and something that the Western nations like to call the Republic of Formosa, which does not exist and cannot exist without violating the sentiments of every Chinese on Formosa, on the mainland and overseas. Whoever is the author of such a formula certainly or understand the nature of the Chinese people.

How can a President of the United States meet with Malenkov on such a question? As things are today, the suspicion would be—and as of this moment I believe it would be an unfair suspicion—that the British have again succeeded in getting the Americans to do something detrimental to American interests. Surely, it would not enhance Eisenhower's political stature and it would give the Conservative Republicans an opportunity to attack him on the floor of the Senate on an issue rather than on personal and political differences. There would be little jealousy in the United States if the British took back their title to world leadership. We would congratulate them and wish that they wear that robe in good health.

would one day send him a TV program instead of the regular dividend. . . . A horse called "Next Stop" won a recent race at five to one. . . . Shudda Haddim says he had him but got off too soon. . . . Arthur Godfrey now owns his own $18,000,000 hotel at Miami Beach and two things worry him: (1) What will happen when the place is so crowded he has to deny a sponsor a waterfront room; (2) how will he feel the first time a guest demands coffee instead of tea? . . .

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Hold That Mood. Yuletide should be followed, we think, by a third holiday nationally proclaimed as a "Where-Do-We-Go-From-Here-Day" . . . a day free from sentimental stimulation. We would bar special music, all TV and radio treatments, gifts, decorations, haubles, pageants and parties. It would have as its national theme "Where you leveling?" The idea would be to induce a check-up by man on his sincerity.

On the Monday morning after the New Year Joe Doakes, lifted through one wonderful week by the spirit of the season, brushes off the mood abruptly, takes off the whiskers, effaces the big smile, throws away the niggard wand and stomps back to "business as usual." He can even scribble notes on his desk-pad reading "Make up for lost time." "See man about carrying off Christmas tree." "Get office staff back into mood of efficiency." "Give stenographer subtle hint holidays are over," and "Turn bad accounts over to more aggressive lawyer." There isn't a "Noel!" left in his system. The words "very" and "merry" are out, perhaps for a year. Nowhere is there the splendid glow of the season's deathless serenade stages a comeback. A Santa Claus appearing in any office gets the heave-ho. Anybody sticking his head into home or shop and blowing a tin horn brings a call for the squad cars. . . . The wife asking her husband to help dismantle the tree gets a rough "Who me?" Countless trees that were handled with reverence a week ago are already in ashcans, upside down, stripped and desolate looking. How many people are gripped by the shell of a cluster of colored lights, except in a dark recess of the cellar today is the angel who topped the Christmas tree? In how many churches have there been a little longer? . . . Where is all the glorious glow of the season? . . . Pretty much lost, if you ask us. Hence the need for a day to be set aside a week after the New Year as a sort of "Hold-That-Mood-Day." Or even a longer period observed as "Was-The-Fast-Brushoff-of-the-Yuletide-Spirit-Necessary-Week." Jackie Gleason began 1954 with one had ankle in the hospital but finished with both feet in the mint. . . . We hear that a big Detroit auto company is to produce a new model with the BUILT-IN COMEDIAN. . . . Incidentally Walter Rutherford is reported coming up with some caustic remarks about the big money paid comedians the next time he fights for a few more cents an hour for the new who make the cars. . . . Stockholders are expressing more or less concern, too, and we heard one voice a fear the directors

Letters To The Editor

The Daily Record welcomes letters with a bona fide address given, such signatures and addresses will be withheld if the writer desires.

Dear Editor:

As a student of one of Monroe County's Schools we are taught Patriotism and also how to honor and take care of the American flag.

Over this Christmas Holiday Vacation I had occasion to pass Coolbaugh High School twice a day and I happened to notice that the flag had not been taken down since Thursday, Dec. 23, that is before Christmas.

This morning (Thursday) because of the terrible ice storm we had up here in the Pocono's there is nothing left of the flag but shreds and battered edges amounting to about one foot.

Whose duty is it to see that the flag is properly taken care of, the Principal, teachers or the students?

Reassurance In Lack Of Nicknames For Red Leaders

It offers only mild reassurance, I realize, but I take some comfort from the fact that the new leaders in Soviet Russia have not yet won any nicknames. At least none that the Russian people care to mention aloud.

Staffs was a name in which many Russians apparently took a good deal of pride. It meant "Man of Steel" and it fitted the old blackguard like a glove.

Malenkov, on the other hand, seems to be just a name. It doesn't mean anything, so far as I know, unless it might be "Man of Lead." Certainly if the name has any heroic or inspiring connotation, the Soviet propagandists have failed to play it up so far. And even if it had a meaning suitable for propaganda, that "Georgi" would take the edge off it.

It is hard to visualize a really tough guy named Georgi—although of course there has to be a first time for everything. I wouldn't count too heavily on this, but if the rise of a dictator named Georgi means the Communist menace has moved into a slightly more pantywaist stage, far be it from me to complain.

The fact is that there has been a noticeable shift away from name symbolism in the realm of politics everywhere in recent years. Whether this is a move forward or backward I don't know, but I regard it as a good sign.

Giving leaders names descriptive of their character is a childish habit most often encountered among savages. The more civilized people become, the more they get away from War Eagles, Richards the Lion Hearted, Ivas the Terrible, and Iron Chancellors.

It has been a long time now since the world had even a Whoosit the Great. This hasn't helped matters appreciably, but certainly it hasn't hurt anything.

On the whole, I think it indicates the growing maturity of the race that people nowadays seem less inclined than they once were to make something out of what's in a name. This parallels such progress as abandonment of fan flirtation, lessened preoccupation with the meaning of birthstones and fading interest in the language of the flowers. It bespeaks gradual conditioning of minds to hard facts, without sentimental embroidery.

Even among the general run of people there is less and less tendency to burden children with names that are supposed to have special meanings. Fewer parents are hobnobbing their helpless babies with noble, saccharine, or frilly names that may be hard to live up to.

There is even less disposition to name children after Presidents, movie stars and characters in cheap novels. This may reflect only a realization that such names might later prove politically embarrassing or a dead give-away of a mother's age, but I prefer to think it means that people are getting better sense. Which in turn would mean that things are looking up.

An elderly Louisiana couple, writes Bess Vaughn, discovered oil on their property, and came up to Shreveport to celebrate. Part of their wild round of dissipation included their very first visit to a zoo. When Pa saw the monkeys, he didn't have to consult any sign outside the cage. "Don't know the fancy name they've dug up for them critters," he announced to his wife, "but from the expressions on their faces and the corns on their seats, I'll warrant they be canasta players."

The lights turned, but the lady driver at the head of the line made nary a move. While horns of cars behind howled, a traffic cop came over to inquire, "Whaisa matter, lady? Ya waitin' for me to turn green?"

Robert S. Allen Reports

Naval Blockade Operates Against China Mainland

Washington, January 4 — A highly effective naval blockade is now operating against the Chinese mainland, and the Reds are sustaining very painful losses. So far, 58 ships have been seized, worth more than $100,000,000.

This hard-hitting blockade, whose potency is not generally realized, is being waged by the Chinese Nationalists with weapons provided by the U. S. Several more destroyers and a number of additional torpedo boats are in process of being turned over to them.

That is the reason for Peiping's frenzied diatribes against the U. S. and Formosa.

It is definitely known the Reds will raise the blockade issue with Dag Hammarskjold, UN Secretary General, when he confers with them on releasing the captured American airmen. Peiping indicated this intention to foreign diplomats who interceded in behalf of these lawlessly-held casualties of the Korean war.

During Premier Nehru's recent China visit, he was harangued at length about the Nationalists' blockade.

Red Premier Chou En-lai furiously denounced the U. S. Seventh Fleet as primarily responsible for the heavy toll in seized ships. He told Nehru, "The Americans are making it possible for the Nationalists to inflict these outrages on us. They would amount to nothing without the support of the Americans."

Chou gave Nehru a detailed list of the captured vessels and their cargoes, and insisted he make a formal complaint of "violation of the freedom of the seas" against the U. S. and Formosa.

Also Martin — The effectiveness of the Nationalists' blockade is also the reason for those irate Russian and satellite protests. They, too, have been hard hit. Among their losses are two of the Soviet's largest tankers, and Poland's big merchant ships the PRACA and the GOTTWADE, the latter a converted former troop transport. In addition to these valuable losses, 22 of the Polish crewmen are seeking refuge in the U. S.

They bring the total of Polish seamen who have defected in the last few years to 1,022.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee members have been informed that Foreign Minister Molotov has had several discussions about the Nationalists' blockade with Ambassador Charles Bohlen.

Molotov is credited with proposing, in effect, the following: The Kremlin would obtain the liberation of the imprisoned airmen in return for the Nationalists' releasing the seized Russian and satellite vessels; also to work out a private understanding for halting further capture of their ships.

The Senate Committee members understand Formosa is willing to negotiate directly with any of the Red governments—except Peiping.

The Nationalists consider themselves at war with Red China and that seizure of its vessels is a legitimate military measure. But the Nationalists are open to proposals for the restoration of other ships that are captured in the blockade.

The whole issue is headed for an explosive showdown at the coming session of the UN General Assembly.

This will result through the scheduled report by the International Law Commission on "The regime of the high seas, and related problems." Russia and its satellites are preparing to bitterly assail the U. S. and Nationalists on charges of "violating freedom of the seas."

The U. S. views the impending attack so seriously that C. D. Jackson, former personal assistant to President Eisenhower, has been recalled and made a special State Department official to deal with the problem.

The Reds are expected to object particularly to the presence of the Seventh Fleet in the Formosa Straits. They will echo Peiping's charge that the Fleet is the real basis of the Nationalists' blockade, and of the fighting over the small islands held by the latter off the Chinese mainland. The Communists will contend Peiping is impelled to attempt to capture these Nationalist strongholds in order to protect vital shipping.

That is the argument Chou expounded to Premier Nehru.

The American position is that the Seventh Fleet "patrols the area but does not control it."

Bulletins — Under West Germany's new draft law, the minimum age is 20 years and the total length of service is 78 months. Temporary educational exemptions are granted under certain circumstances. . . . Repairing the ancient foundations of the Capitol will be expensive. The House Administration Committee has been told the cost will total more than $800,000. . . . AIR FORCE magazine takes a dim view of the proposal to train 100,000 teenagers a year under UMT. In a lead article of the January issue the semi-official publication declares, "This plan is a poor answer to the nation's military manpower needs and could seriously undermine the quality of the Air Force."

Housing Administrator CBO is drafting new regulations aimed at helping "minority" groups to obtain better housing. He is holding private conferences for that purpose with leaders of the building industry. Insiders say one of the proposed regulations will require a "contractual agreement" that all FHA and VA guaranteed housing be open to all buyers or users without regard to race, color or creed. . . .

Farmers Planning For 1955

—by H. G. Heller

Farmers, like operators of the big industrial enterprises of the nation, are required to plan ahead if their productive efficiency is to function properly.

Yesterday officials of Monroe County Agriculture Extension Assn., visited with Monroe County Commissioners to discuss their plans for the year 1955 and to submit a request for an appropriation from the county to aid in operating their agents' services during the year.

Considerable emphasis was placed on the fact a full time assistant has been attached to the bureau here with the specific purpose of developing 4-H Club work.

Again demonstrating their planning ability, the farmer group pointed out that if the county is to collect more taxes and generally achieve solid prosperity in agriculture, development of soundly trained 4-H Club people is an investment in the future worthwhile paying for right now.

Farmers have gone even further on a state-wide basis. They swiftly analyzed the results of the last election and came up with these facts:

A delegation of ten representatives and two state senators will represent Pennsylvania farmers during the 1955 General Assembly.

The total is two less farmer representatives than during the 1953 Legislature and three less farmer senators. However, the agriculture folk are banking heavily on the fact that Gov.-Elect George M. Leader was one of the farmer members of the 1953 Senate.

In the House delegation Democrats hold a 6-4 edge, while in the Senate both farmers are Republicans, including Albert E. Madigan, R-Bradford vice chairman of the 1955 Senate Agriculture Committee and most likely prospect for chairman of the committee in the 1955 session.

The House has a 111-99 Democratic edge which farmers know will provide for Democratic chairmen of the important House Agriculture and the Dairy Industries Committee.

Studying that lineup—again with an eye to the future—farmers found that among front running candidates for the chairmanship of the House committee important to them next year are:

Robert R. Adam, Berks, who served on the Republican-controlled Agriculture Committee in 1953 session; E. Gadd, Schuler, Fayette, and E. J. Farabaugh, Cambria, both of whom also served on the 1953 committee, and Harry Cochran, Fayette.

Very little can be accomplished without sound planning. No one knows that better than the successful farmer.

Russia Takes Risk To Stem Allied Union

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The year begins on an ominous note, with rumbling threats from Moscow.

While there is every likelihood the Russians will continue to avoid any irrevocable steps that might plunge them into the war for which they are unready, they seem in a mood to take some calculated risks to prevent any combined Western action from menacing their long-range goals.

The ominous note is underscored by the tone of the Soviet press in recent weeks. All through the debate of the French National Assembly on the Paris agreements to arm Western Germany, the Soviet press was engaged in an internal campaign devoted to telling the Russian people that their security was being threatened.

Almost daily in the press there were reports of meetings throughout the country and of statements by ordinary Soviet citizens on the theme that Soviet people were unafraid, that they would strive to build up the "defense might of the Soviet motherland," that they were prepared to "defend the cause of peace," and so forth.

Such campaigns always are well planned in advance in the Kremlin and have definite aims. The aim of the latest campaign seems to be to use the events in Paris and Western Europe as an excuse for demanding an increase of labor productivity in the Soviet Union, particularly in fields which might be connected with the military.

Outside the Soviet Union, the Communist reaction to the French Parliament's ratification of the Paris agreements was swift and unanimous, suggesting it had been dictated well in advance. The reaction could be summed up in a line: "It's not over yet."

There can be little doubt the Communists hope to strew all sorts of obstacles along the rocky road still to be traveled by the Western Allies before an effective European alliance comes into being.

The Germans will be the chief targets, and will undoubtedly be subjected to a combination of threats and lures, but that does not mean France will be left alone. Indeed, there should now be a several-pronged attack against Premier Pierre Mendes-France, aimed at stirring up political strikes and mass demonstrations inside France and perhaps even going so far as to attempt to encourage new troubles in North Africa as a means of embarrassing the premier.

While the Soviet press still speaks of the peaceful coexistence of two systems, it has adopted a more and more truculent tone. The rising pitch of this truculence indicates a measure of desperation which has caused Soviet leaders to resort to sabre-rattling. War psychosis is a dangerous plaything, particularly when the East-West impasse promises to transform Europe into a bristling armed camp.

FLAGLER'S Monthly News

A message from Howard Flagler, 'Your Pharmacist'

OVER 140,000 DIFFERENT DRUG STORE PRODUCTS are listed in the 1955 Drug Topics Price Book, and 14,126 of them are new items. No one drug store could possibly carry all of them in stock. But we do surprise, even ourselves, by usually having everything you may ask for, and we can and will get for you, anything available as quickly as possible, because we know where they are obtainable.

SO MANY NEW PRESCRIPTION DRUGS are being perfected each month that we must constantly keep informed by reading our Pharmaceutical and Medical Journals. Also Drug firms send us information about a new product release, even before they notify the Physicians, so that when Your Physician prescribes a new discovery, we usually have it in stock.

OPERATING A PRESCRIPTION PHARMACY is much more complicated than it used to be, when a few hundred chemicals and drugs were all that was necessary to stock a prescription department. Now we carry thousands of bottles containing medicines that were unknown less than 10 years ago.

THAT IS WHY we will appreciate, if you will inform any Physician you may consult, even in the most distant of cities, that we can compound his prescriptions.

It is with the consideration of the welfare and desires of the thousands of families who shop regularly in Stroudsburg, that, beginning this Friday night Stroudsburg Stores will be open for your shopping convenience until 9 P.M. Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, the library moved into new quarters just in time for the puzzle addicts now in the last throes of the current series of puzzles. Very comfortable reference room, they have now, and certainly being put to good use yesterday afternoon.

It's amazing how many books are involved in finding out the onion growing center, where a presidential candidate against Grant was born and where the first petroleum spring was discovered in North America.

The only trouble about a library, for puzzle solvers or anyone else, is that they get lured off into such pleasant by-ways that have nothing to do with the matter in question. One man spent the whole afternoon reading about the Sullivan expedition. Once started it seemed he couldn't stop.

Well, the Monroe County Public Library was a busy place yesterday afternoon, and even busier when school was out. Our young fry are very book conscious, and not just to solve puzzles, either—unless maybe it's the puzzle of life itself.

However, a visit to the library is apt to leave an adult a little discontented with his way of life, that leaves so little time for reading, and all that wealth of material for the taking.

They witnessed a beautiful picture in the Mount Pocono region where the trees were covered with brilliant ice.

A reunion for the teenagers was held Friday night which proved enjoyable. The Stroudsburg Girl Scouts were chosen to cook the dinner. There was square dancing and singing during the social period.

New year morning a conference was held during which the executive secretary of Hostels, of New York City, was the guest speaker and conducted the meeting. Many interesting points were brought out.

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

EAST STROUDSBURG'S first annual Christmas Basketball Tournament was successful in every respect. The tournament didn't set any records for crowds at the East Stroudsburg High School gymnasium, but it did show a profit in cash at the end of the four-day affair. All bills were paid, including $28 per night for officials, and the Varsity "E" Club was still able to show a "few" dollars in the bank book. This year's outing may be only the first of a long series of similar tournaments.

The crowds were small, but large enough to provide plenty of excitement and enough cash to make both ends meet. Good sportsmanship prevailed from start to finish, with virtually every school providing large squads of cheerleaders to keep the N. Courtland St. gymnasium jumping. The officiating was very good and received praise from all but one coach and the lone complaint was of a very minor nature.

Carl Bell, Damascus mentor, called the officiating the best he has witnessed in the last couple of years. Jim Aikens, Moscow, and Doug Schoonover, Fairview, were also high in their praise of the manner in which the officials handled the contests. The Varsity "E" Club operated the games in outstanding fashion, providing hosts for each of the teams and oranges as halftime refreshments. There was at least one man stationed on every door and a public address system highlighted the tournament.

Varsity "E" Club members went all out to insure the comfort of players and fans alike. This is one of the few tournaments of its kind which didn't go into the red in the first year. Most tournaments have a very tough time the first time or two and then show improvement as the years roll into history. The East Stroudsburg tournament appears to have arrived the first year and could very easily develop into one of the top affairs of its kind in the near future.

Moscow stamped itself as one of the teams to beat in the Wayne County Conference this season by winning the tournament, crown. Coach Jim Aikens has a truly tall club and one that moves fairly well. I have heard a lot about Howard Bortree, high scoring forward for Moscow, but the tournament championship quintet is guided by Charley Hoffman, team captain. Without Hoffman, one of the smallest men on the squad, Moscow would have been one of the also rans in the tournament.

Bortree is an outstanding point producer, but Hoffman is the "clutch" performer on the squad. Moscow's height will put the club in good standing against every opponent it meets this season and the red and white color bearers could supply the finest basketball campaign in the history of the school. But Moscow's big boys do a lot of pushing under the basket and could very easily get in trouble in any given contest. Their loss would probably prove fatal.

Anyone interested in basketball would have received a fine education just by watching Matamoros, the runnerup, during the tournament. Matamoros did all of its damage with a pressing zone defense which ranged all over the court. The Pike County quintet displayed the manner in which a good defense can make possible a strong offense. Although Moscow had a decided height advantage over Matamoros, the latter's outstanding defense threatened to supply a major upset in the final game.

Damascus finished in third place, although this club wasn't considered even a mild threat in the pre-tournament debates. The upper Wayne County club had only one poor game and that was against Moscow in the semi-final round. Damascus' field goal average in the semi-final round was a very sad 19 per cent. In its two tournament victories Damascus put on outstanding performances from the foul line. Fairview, in its semi-final round outing with Matamoros, missed 26 shots from the free throw line.

Ray Gallagher, one of the team hosts, became the only Varsity "E" Club casualty during the tournament. Ray suffered a badly cut finger while preparing oranges for one of the teams in the final round. The Varsity "E" Club doesn't plan any sort of rest now that the tournament is over. The athletic organization will present the Tulsa Choir at East Stroudsburg Junior High School on Thursday, January 27. Proceeds will go toward further payment of the lighting system constructed by the club last summer. The Varsity "E" Club is a hard working organization which deserves the support of every man.

Stroudsburg Five Invades Catasauqua

Poconos Run Wild Over West End

BROOKLYN, Jan. 3 (AP)—Stroudsburg's rampaging Poconos broke open the Pocono Mountains Basketball League with a 115-55 victory over West End here on the Chestnut Hill High court last night.

The Poconos featured five players in double scoring figures as they coasted to their first victory without being extended. Stroudsburg, Community Bar's entry in the circuit, exploded into a 22-3 lead at the end of the first period and was never headed the remainder of the distance. The Poconos enjoyed a 46-16 advantage at the halfway mark and made certain of victory by dominating the third round, 25-16, and the final quarter, 44-23.

Henry "Hank" Steller led the veteran Stroudsburg campaigners in scoring with 30 points. The hard playing Steller rolled up his total with 11 goals from the field and eight from the foul line.

Guy "Cub" Possinger was next in line with 25 markers, while Harvey "Hotsey" Bergman and Jack Sommers each hit for 16. Howard "Hoody" Marshall tallied 13 points.

Doug Hawk, Henry "Hank" Krechel and Dave Titus led the losing attack with 13, 11 and 10 tallies respectively.

Stroudsburg made good on 17 of 25 foul shots, while West End converted five of 11 free throws. The Poconos held a 49-25 advantage in field goals.

The Poconos return to action on the Stroudsburg High School court tonight, with Gray's Chevrolet supplying the opposition. The top-off will take place at 8 p.m.

This contest was originally listed for tomorrow night but the Stroudsburg court wasn't available to the Pocono Mountains League on that date.

East Stroudsburg Home With Phillipsburg High

EAST STROUDSBURG HIGH will shoot for its fourth basketball victory of the current campaign today when the Cavaliers play host to Phillipsburg High in a non-league contest. The game will be played in the N. Courtland St. gymnasium. Junior varsity activity is slated to get under way at 6:30 p. m. and the varsity encounter at approximately 8 p. m.

The Cavaliers, fresh from a third place finish in the Lehigh Valley League Invitation Tournament, held at Slatington's Smith Hall, would like to continue its winning touch. In tournament play East Stroudsburg won over Stroudsburg and Whitehall and lost to Palmerton.

In an earlier outing with Stroudsburg the Cavaliers lost, but came back to even matters with a nod over the Alumnus. In Lehigh-Northampton League play the N. Courtland St. cagers have fallen before Parkland, Wilson Borough and Coplay in that order, without registering a victory.

Coach Dick Forster is expected to stick with his usual lineup. The starting array of talent will have Barry Lambert and Howard Smith at the forward slots and high scoring Bill Pensi at center. Bob "Red" Kupiszewski and Bill Sommers will handle the guard positions.

Dick Gray and Jim Kimler will also probably see action in tonight's zone.

East Stroudsburg is hopeful that its high shooting average and tight zone defense will turn Phillipsburg into its fourth cage victory of the current campaign.

The Cavaliers meet powerful Fountain Hill in the N. Courtland St. gym on Friday and then play six straight games on the road. The next eight games are Lehigh-Northampton League clashes.

Four Lehigh-Northampton League contests are on the agenda tonight. They send Coplay against Parkland; Hellertown will oppose Pen Argyl; Bangor will battle Wilson Borough and Nazareth is slated to stack up against Fountain Hill.

Bachman To Pilot Saylorburg For Second Straight Season

SAYLORSBURG—Gilbert "Gib" Bachman, veteran diamond figure, was elected manager of the Saylorburg entry in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League last night for the second straight year.

Bachman led Saylorburg to the playoff championship last season after the team finished third in the regular season race.

Morris Smickley was elected president of the team for next year. Other officers elected were Graydon Praetorius, first vice president; Roy Correll, second vice president; Robert Rogers, secretary, and Raymond Koehler, treasurer.

Koehler was actually reelected to the office of treasurer. Last night's meeting was held at the Lake House, where the team will hold a banquet on Saturday night.

Banquet plans were also among the chief topics of discussion.

Lake Harmony Rallies In Second Half To Win, 82-75

POCONO PINES—Lake Harmony fought from behind in the third quarter to open the Pocono Mountains Basketball League season with an 82-75 victory over Johnson's Diner in the second half of a double-header here on the Tobyhanna Township High court last night.

Failure from the foul line cost Johnson's Diner the contest, although the Tannersville contingent enjoyed a 21-10 lead at the end of the first quarter and a 36-28 bulge in the scoring at the halfway mark. Johnson's Diner collapsed in the third quarter, during which the visiting team could account for only 12 points, while Lake Harmony cemented victory with 25 more points in the last stanza while Johnson's club picked up 27.

Chlor Bloss, fast moving forward for the Dinermen, was the game's top scorer with 30 points. Bloss came up with 11 field goals and eight foul shots.

Johnson's Diner made good on only 19 of 45 charity tosses, while Lake Harmony converted eight of 13 charity tosses.

The executive committee of the American Assn. of College Basketball Coaches decided to withhold publication of a year-long study of basketball, pending further study, after listening to pleas from representatives of the manufacturers.

It was understood that this study, made in the University of Wisconsin laboratories, would have shown great differences among the various makes of "official" basketballs. Preliminary results, made public last spring, indicated that about 20 per cent of the balls tested did not comply with the established standards of size, weight, thickness of covers, etc.

Legislation bearing on the college player rule is to be considered by the NCAA later this week. This rule, accepted last month by the major leagues but rejected by the minors, would forbid pro teams to sign college players after the start of their sophomore year.

The NCAA apparently has set up its meetings so that football television, the most controversial subject, won't be brought up for debate on the convention floor.

Kentucky Holds Lead In Cage Poll

By JOE REICHLER
The Associated Press

Kentucky's mighty Wildcats still unbeaten after a month of competition, easily retained their No. 1 ranking among the nation's major college basketball teams yesterday in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The defending Southeastern Conference champions headed 89 of the 116 ballots cast by sports writers and sportscasters throughout the nation to pile up 1,090 points, nearly 200 more than their nearest pursuer. The Wildcats trounced St. Louis by 17 points and overhauled Temple by 21 points last week to run their unbeaten string to seven games this season and 32 over a two-year span.

Duquesne, winner of the Holiday Festival at Madison Square Garden, vaulted into second place with 869 points. The Dukes, who were in eighth place last week, drew 14 first place votes by virtue of their New Year's Eve triumph over LaSalle. Only a loss to George Washington in eight games mars Duquesne's record.

LaSalle (9-3) dropped one notch to fourth place behind North Carolina State's Wolfpack who fell from second to third because of a surprising defeat at the hands of twice-beaten Villanova. LaSalle polled 630 points to 679 for the Wolfpack who also saw their 12-game winning streak go up in smoke.

San Francisco's Dons (8-1) remained in fifth place with 515 points but two other schools—Illinois and Niagara—dropped out of the top ten. Their places were taken by UCLA and Missouri.

UCLA, which made a fine impression in the Holiday Festival before losing in the semi-finals to LaSalle, jumped from 15th to seventh, the biggest gain of any team. The Uclans (9-2), barely beat out eighth place Utah, 276 points to 269. The Utes, idle this past week, dropped a notch from seventh.

Missouri (7-2) the Big Seven tournament winner, climbed from 11th to ninth with 262 points by virtue of its victories over Nebraska, Oklahoma and Kansas State. The Wildcats also drew two first place votes.

Dayton, in fourth place last week, barely beat out Maryland (7-2) for 10th place. The Flyers, defeated by Duquesne and UCLA in New York, received 175 points to 153 for Maryland. Last week's 10th place holder, Niagara, fell all the way to 15th.

Mountaineers Open Circuit Flag Race

STROUDSBURG High will square off against Catasauqua in the opening round of the Lehigh Valley League today on the spacious new court of the Rough Riders, regarded by many as one of the big three in the 1955 championship chase.

The junior varsity encounter will begin at 6:45 p.m. and the varsity clash will take place at approximately 8:15.

Stroudsburg will take a pre-season record of four wins and two defeats into tonight's Lehigh Valley League opener. The Mountaineers won their first four games but at the present time are in the clutches of a two-game losing habit.

Catasauqua has been ranked with Palmerton and Slatington as the teams most likely to succeed in the present basketball race. Catty finished as runnerup to Palmerton in the recent Lehigh Valley League Invitation Tournament at Smith Hall.

The Rough Riders will be playing one of their first games on Catasauqua's new field house court. The gym was only recently dedicated during a tripeheader which featured Catty and the Alumnus in the main event.

Coach John Kupiec is anxious to get his Mountaineers back in a winning frame of mind. But the likeable Stroudsburg mentor realizes that he has picked one of the toughest clubs in the circuit against which to break the losing streak.

Kupiec is expected to stick with the same array of talent that has carried the bulk of the load thus far this season. This means that the forward berths will be filled by Dave Nevil and Doug Shook. Dick Little will operate at center, while Don Deibler and Francis "Sonny" Dieber take care of the guard duties.

Wally Adelman and Bob Metzger will also probably see action for the Mountaineers tonight.

Stroudsburg will enter the contest with an advantage in height, but Catasauqua will hold a wide advantage in the speed department. Catty banks its title chances on its brilliant ball handling ability and large amount of speed this season.

The Mountaineers, eliminated from the Lehigh Valley League Invitation Tournament by East Stroudsburg, have been working hard in recent drills. Kupiec and his cagers have been working on some new types of offenses and defenses to be used during the coming pennant dash.

Other Lehigh Valley League games scheduled for tonight include Slatington at Emmaus, Whitehall at Lehigh and Palmerton at Northampton.

Stroudsburg plays its first four league games on the road. The Mountaineers tangle with Whitehall on the same Catasauqua court on Friday.

A's Mail 37 Contracts

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 3 (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics, racing against time to get a major league park and baseball club ready by April 12, sent out contracts to 37 players today.

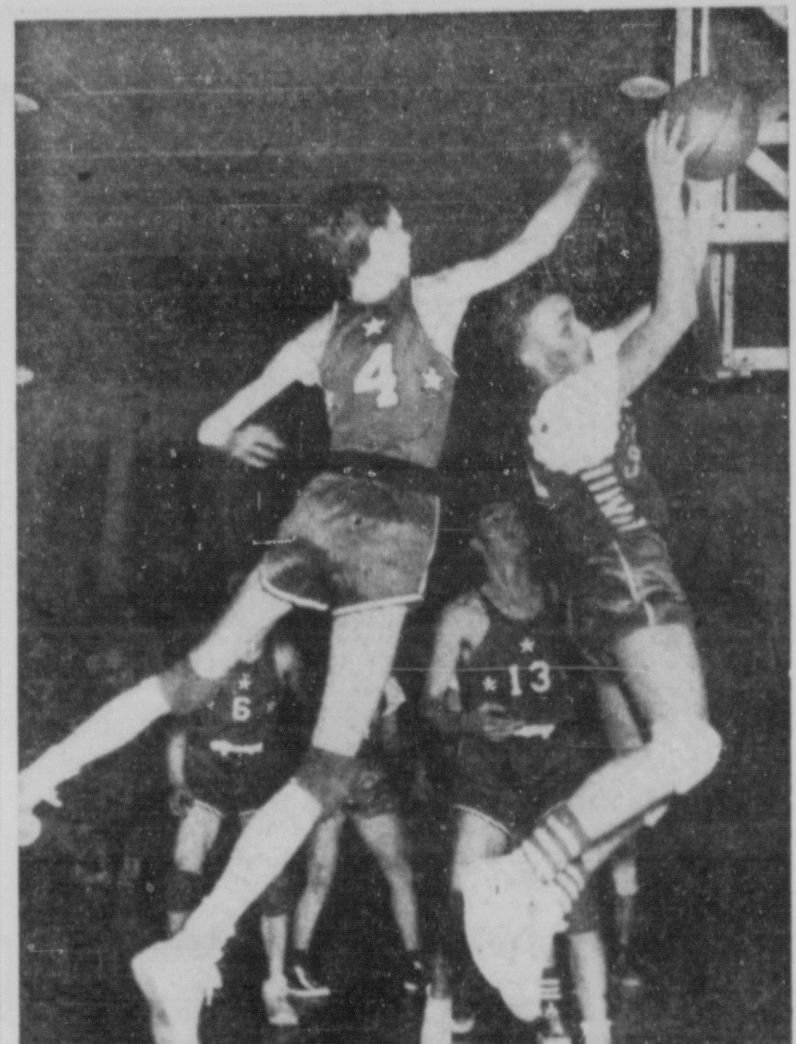

"These are the men we are going to start with," said Ray Kennedy, director of personnel. "Whether we will find some other prospects in the club's farm system will have to wait until Feb. 14. We've picked out 40 of the better bets to report for screening to Manager Lou Boudreau on that date at Sanford, Fla. Maybe we will find a few there that have a chance to make the club."

Kennedy said he was doubtful the Athletics would swing a major trade before spring training starts.

"All we have heard are propositions involving third baseman Jim Finigan and Arnold Portocarrero, our Puerto Rican pitcher. And if we let either go, we've got to have some major league in return," he said.

Hector Lopez, an infielder who hit .314 with Ottawa last season; Clyde Boyer, former Cardinal pitcher drafted from Columbus; Bob Spicer, pitcher drafted from Los Angeles; and Arthur Ceenarel, drafted from the New York Yankees' Birmingham farm, are among the newcomers Kennedy hopes may help in the Athletics rebuilding program.

Turner Surprises Scortichini

NEW YORK, Jan. 3 (AP)—Gil Turner, fighting in furious bursts, pounded out a unanimous decision over favored Ralo Scortichini tonight in a wild 10-round match at St. Nicholas Arena. Scortichini weighed 134½, Turner 154 pounds.

Turner closed with a rush down the stretch after a spotty start when he let the Italian bull him. It was the more accurate fire of the Philadelphia Negro that swung the balance against the sturdy Scortichini's heading style.

Referee Jack Watson scored it 5-3-2, Judge Artie Amlais 8-2 and Judge Bert Grant 6-4 all in favor of Turner. The AP card was 6-3-1 for Turner.

Body Of Mrs. Dianna Bixby, Aviatix, Taken From Gulf

LONG BEACH, Calif., Jan. 3 (AP)—The body of petite Dianna Bixby, one of the nation's foremost women fliers, was recovered today from the wreckage of her plane in the Gulf of California where it crashed in a storm 24 hours earlier.

A Navy diver, James Watkins, flown in a Coast Guard plane to Puerto Escandido, brought the body of the 32-year-old aviatrix up from the rocky waters 150 yards off the southern tip of Lower California.

Watching were her husband, Robert Bixby, with whom she operated Bixby Airborne Products, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Converse of Long Beach and formerly of Boston. Her two children, Lillian, 5, and Robert, 2, were home in Long Beach.

Mrs. Bixby, in a twin-engine A20, and her husband, flying a DCS, were en route from Long Beach to La Paz, Mexico, to pick up loads of vegetables yesterday when she radioed him she was running low on gas.

Through the heavy static of the storm, Bixby heard her say she was trying to reach a strip of land high on one of the cliffs along the craggy coastline. She was flying at about 3,000 feet elevation but visibility was poor.

"She said she thought she could make it," Bixby, 41, said. He said he advised her to try to make the landing, and he sped back to Long Beach, about 600 miles to the north, for Coast Guard help.

Her plane crashed in about 15 feet of water and was badly broken up on the rocks, the Coast Guard reported. The crash site was 10 miles south of Loreto, which has the nearest landing strip in the desolate region.

Mrs. Bixby, who had logged more than 5,000 air hours, was perhaps best known for an attempted round-the-world flight she and her husband made in 1950. They were downed at Calcutta by engine trouble.

She had planned to make another try this year to better the late William Odom's 1947 record of slightly more than 73 hours.

Death Toll Over Holiday Totals 361

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New Year's holiday weekend cost the nation at least 361 accident deaths—295 of them on streets and highways.

The traffic death toll was substantially less than that of Christmas weekend a week earlier when 392 were killed by motor vehicles. However, the Christmas traffic deaths and the overall toll of 515 accident fatalities both set records for a two-day holiday period.

The 295 lives lost in traffic last weekend also far exceeded an estimate by the National Safety Council which said before the holiday cars would kill 240.

Commenting on the combined cost of 687 dead in traffic mishaps during the two 54-hour holiday periods, Ned H. Dearborn, Safety Council president, said it was "enough to make every decent American citizen sick at heart."

Dearborn said the deaths were caused by "relatively few people who are reckless, heedless, irresponsible, incompetent, selfish, or all of these."

He said, "The people will rise up and demand laws and enforcement that will chase these crazy drivers off the streets and highways."

The New Year weekend fatality survey showed 27 fire deaths throughout the nation—a sharp contrast to the 63 reported during the Christmas holiday. Both surveys covered the time from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday.

There were 39 deaths from miscellaneous accidents other than traffic and fire for the New Year period compared with 60 at Christmas.

The holiday weekend tolls compared with a random nonholiday weekend survey by The Associated Press in December which recorded 321 fatalities—225 in traffic, 39 in fires and 67 in miscellaneous mishaps.

During the 1948-49 New Year weekend—the only other two-day observance of this holiday since World War II—207 of 309 accident deaths were attributed to traffic.

Accident deaths last weekend by states (traffic, fires and miscellaneous) included:

Maryland 4 0 1; New Jersey 11 1 1; New York 18 2 2; Ohio 14 0 0; Pennsylvania 10 0 1; and West Virginia 2 0 0.

Astor Denies He Offered Wife $41,000

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 3 (AP)—Wealthy John Jacob Astor said today he has not offered his third wife a divorce settlement of $1,000 a day for the 41 days they lived together, adding he already had given her "more than she is entitled to."

He denied published reports that he had made a counteroffer to Mrs. Dolores (Dolly) Fullman Astor's demand for $500,000.

"I have made no offer and will make no offer," Astor said. "I did give her approximately $20,000 in money and jewels. That is more than she is entitled to."

Mrs. Astor sued for separate maintenance here Nov. 22 because of something "so intimate in nature" she didn't describe it in the suit. In a countersuit last Friday, Astor asked for an annulment or divorce from Dolly, 26-year-old blonde who lives with her parents on Miami Beach.

They were married in Arlington, Va., Aug. 6 but the 42-year-old Astor contends it was not a legal marriage because his Mexican divorce from wife No. 2, Gertrude Gretsch Astor, was invalid.

When told of Astor's denial that an offer had been made, Dolly laughed and said "no comment," then added: "He seems to be doing all the talking. It's unfortunate but I guess we'll have to let it go at that."

Benson Regrets Release Of Vitt Letters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Secretary Benson said today it was a mistake for the Agriculture Department to make public a letter from George N. Vitt commenting on its refusal to accept Wolf Ladejinsky as an agricultural attaché for Japan.

Vitt, industrial editor of American Exporter Publications at New York City, made several references to Jews in his letter which was made public last week by Milan Smith, executive assistant to Benson.

Release of the letter has drawn criticism from a number of Jewish groups and organizations on the contention that it carried anti-Semitic overtones.

The department refused to accept Ladejinsky under congressional legislation transferring agriculture attaches from the State to the Agriculture Department. Ladejinsky had been serving in Tokyo for several years.

The refusal was made on the basis of security reasons and also on the grounds that the department preferred a man with broader knowledge of American agriculture and marketing problems, Agriculture Department spokesmen said.

Ladejinsky was born in Russia and has sisters still living in that country, a circumstance the Agriculture Department said might make him vulnerable to pressure.

The attaché had twice been cleared by the State Department.

In his letter, Vitt applauded Benson's refusal to accept Ladejinsky. Vitt also said a "goodly share" of Russian revolutionaries who came to this country were "found among the Russian Jews."

Vitt also wrote: "Jews who turned into Reds or fellow travelers after 1919 were the worst kind of traitors, not only to their own mother country, the U. S. A., but to their own people."

"I am not a Jew-baiter. Some of my best friends are among Jews. I like all good people. The above criticism of Red Jews was made to me by my Jewish friends themselves with considerable steam behind it."

Acceptance Of Message Predicted

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—Republican leaders predicted today, after previewing President Eisenhower's State of the Union message with him at the White House, that it will be well received by the country.

Eisenhower will deliver it personally to joint session of the Senate and House on Thursday. It will run about 6,400 words and take 45 minutes to read.

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.), the party's leader in the Senate, described the message as constructive. He said it is one he thought the Congress—to be run for the next two years by the Democrats—would not oppose.

Knowland and Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), retiring president pro tem of the Senate, agreed they found no great surprises in the advance text. Bridges added:

"It's a message which should have the general approval of the Congress and of the entire nation, and I might say, in most instances, bipartisan support."

No Democrats were at today's White House gathering—just the President's Cabinet, some other administration officials and the party's congressional leaders. Eisenhower had top Democrats in last month for a discussion of foreign affairs but has not yet talked domestic matters with them.

Reports told the White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty, that they had been told by those at today's meeting that no surprises were contained in the message. Hagerty replied it was "true that certain parts" already have been disclosed.

Asked whether the message would contain any surprises, Hagerty said:

"I will leave that to you when you read it."

Asked whether there were any disagreements, Hagerty replied: "No. I wouldn't say there were any disagreements at all."

He also said, in reply to questions, that no major changes were made in the message as a result of the discussion.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) described the message as "fine and comprehensive."

Manila Pact Nations Call Foreign Ministers' Session

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3 (AP)—The foreign ministers of the eight Manila Pact nations announced today they will meet Feb. 23 at Bangkok, Thailand, to begin delivering on the treaty's promises to defend Southeast Asia.

Announcement of the gathering was made simultaneously in the capitals of all eight countries—Australia, France, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Thailand, Britain and the United States. "The purpose of the meeting," said the U. S. State Department, "will be to consider arrangements for the implementation of the Manila treaty and to exchange views on matters affecting the peace and security of the treaty area."

Perhaps the most troubled spot of the area is Indochina, where a truce this summer ended nearly eight years of fighting without keeping the Communists out. Laos, Cambodia and Southern Viet Nam—the Associated States of Indochina—are covered by the treaty although they are not signers. The military aspects of Indochina—meaning the growing Communist forces in the north—will be considered at the Bangkok meeting. So, too, will be the question of subversive infiltration of the weak government of Southern Viet Nam.

U. S. policy in Indochina has been to reduce the size and boost the efficiency of local armed forces, so as to prepare them to cope better with subversion. Prime reliance for repelling any military aggression in force would be placed on the retaliatory power of the Manila Pact countries.

Trucks Crash At Borough Intersection

A MISINTERPRETATION of traffic signals given by Police Officer Russell A. Decker of Stroudsburg was said to have caused a collision of two tractor-trailer trucks at the intersection of Seventh and Ann Streets yesterday at 12:30 p.m. Damages were estimated at $325.

Decker said he was directing traffic east and west when a truck, owned and operated by James Gillaspay of Benton, Pa., came over the bridge traveling north on Seventh St. and crashed into another truck crossing Seventh and heading west.

No arrests were made and there were no injuries. Gillaspay assumed full responsibility for the accident saying he thought he had been given the signal to proceed, according to police. The Gillaspay vehicle, which is leased to the Eastern Forwarding Carrier Co., received a blown out right rear tire at a loss of $75.

The tractor-trailer owned by John Smith of Stroudsburg and operated by Howard Williams, 349 N. Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, was damaged to the extent of $450. The damages included the left front fender, bumper and radiator. This vehicle was on lease to Claude Cyphers of Ann St.

Ralph Burrows Heads Board Of Recreation

THE EAST Stroudsburg Board of Recreation reorganized in annual session last night.

Board members voted unanimously to thank Leon Koster for his many years of service to the board and to the community.

The board's budget committee will meet later with Borough Council to discuss needs for the coming year. General discussion of necessary personnel and possible ground improvements was carried out at the reorganization meeting.

Fire Chief Ben Albert reported 17 brush fires topped the list in that department. The 39 alarms included 13 by alarm boxes, 12 by local phone calls and 14 from out-of-town.

Councilman Takes Oath Of Office

BANGOR — The increase of insurance on all municipal buildings to $115,000 and the addition of a new councilman highlighted the first regular meeting of Borough Council in 1955 last night.

The insurance on the buildings and their contents is an increase of $3,000 over the previous amount carried. The action was taken following the suggestion of Fred McFall, the borough insurance broker of record. This raise will represent an increase in premium cost to approximately $13 per year. The property value will now be set at $128,000.

Daniel Sylvester was sworn in as a council member by Burgess Hayden B. Pritchard. He will represent the 4th Ward replacing Pasquale Cinelli. The latter moved to Easton.

Council President John Correll appointed Sylvester to the finance and safety committees and named him an additional delegate to the Mid-Eastern Association of Boroughs. Correll named Fred Sleep chairman of the finance committee filling the post formerly handled by Cinelli.

Council also made an additional appropriation of $750 to the Bangor Memorial Park Board. This amount was the balance remaining in the 1954 budget.

Louis Trigliani, chairman of the law committee, reported an agreement had been reached between the Park Board and Bangor Gas Co. for a right of way through the park property. A gas line will be connected with the Pen Argyl line.

Correll appointed a special committee to work in conjunction with the Bangor Chamber of Commerce in hopes of enticing industry into the Bangor area. This group includes Walter Warrick, Alfred Counterman, Arthur Messenger and Rex Erdman.

The council president announced a budget meeting will be held Jan. 10. A tentative budget will be drawn up by the finance committee for '55.

Sebring Tells Rotarians Of School Trends

EDUCATIONAL program trends and administration were explained to members of the Mount Pocono Rotary Club by guest speaker Walter Sebring at the regular club meeting yesterday at Pocono Manor. Sebring is assistant superintendent of schools in Monroe County.

He discussed the county plan as it pertains to the mountain districts and explained the differences between jointure, merger and union districts.

Sebring spoke on school district finances and told the group some 33 states in the U. S. have a sales tax to benefit schools.

He explained the Pennsylvania tax of 1 per cent was very low in comparison with others. Some 29 states have personal income taxes and 18 others have both personal and sales taxes.

The school official stated: "In November, 1,093 school unions were voted all over the country. Of these, only 98 failed to accomplish what they started out to do. That shows a trend toward larger set districts where better service is provided more economically." Sebring said several unions had been voted in throughout Pennsylvania.

Gossard Pleads Guilty To Killing Mauk Youngster

EBENSBURG, Jan. 3 —Harry Gossard, 39-year-old unemployed sailor, pleaded guilty today to the trick-or-treat pre-Halloween slaying of 6-year-old Karen Mauk near her Conemaugh home.

Cambria County Judges Ivan J. McKenrick and George Griffith immediately ordered Gossard committed to Torrance State Hospital for mental observation.

The court said testimony will be taken to determine the degree of guilt after the hospital reports on Gossard's mental condition. He has been held in Cambria County jail without bail.

The little girl's body was found in a cemetery near her home several hours after she went out to participate in Halloween games Oct. 29. The coroner said she was strangled to death.
